

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:
MOUNT HARMON PLANTATION TO HOST
NATIONAL REVOLUTIONARY WAR REENACTMENT & COLONIAL FESTIVAL
Saturday & Sunday, May 21 & 22, 2022
"The British are coming to Cecil CountyAgain!"

Don't miss your chance to see history come to life!

Mark your calendars for May 21 & 22 ~ Mount Harmon is hosting a National Revolutionary War Re-enactment & Colonial Festival featuring over 500 re-enactors and the largest colonial living history event of it's kind in the U. S. this spring. We will have re-enactors from around the nation coming to bring history to life with British and Continental Encampments, and Battle Reenactment of 1777 Philadelphia Campaign "The Road to Brandywine" in the Chesapeake region. The event features a Colonial Marketplace with array of colonial craft merchants and vendors, and living history activities for the whole family to enjoy. The event will portray the 1777 Philadelphia Campaign "Road to Brandywine" when the main British forces landed at nearby Head of Elk, with skirmishes and battles in the upper Chesapeake region as British and Continental forces clashed over the quest for independence and freedom. Be sure to join us for all of the time traveling fun and see colonial history come to life, and learn more about this exciting and pivotal period in our nation's history!

Each day will feature colonial merchants, military skirmishes and battles, tactical demonstrations and drills, and of course a full-fledged Revolutionary War Encampment of both British and "Rebels" (continental and militia groups) will be at hand. The public will be able to: tour the encampments, shop at the colonial market faire, enjoy children's musket drill and activities, hearth cooking, colonial crafts, living history demonstrations, manor house tours, General Foreman's Open Air Tavern and Food Court featuring BBQ, Crab Cakes, Burgers, Crow Winery and Maryland Beer Company. Tickets Available online at www.mountharmon.org and upon entry.

Admission: $10 per person
Children 12 & under & FOMH Members Free

For additional Event Information, Media Coverage and Press Credentials call FOMH at 410-275-8819 or e-mail info@mountharmon.org.